

I am against lifting the ban on using cell phones on planes. There is a need to restrict unnecessary noise on planes, and allowing cell phone usage will only contribute to what can be a chaotic environment. It is bad enough that loud talkers can be heard half way through the flight, give them cell phones and the place will be a cacaphony of sound. We don't need this.